K: Cat and dog. - Mr. Suits, wait, are we going to sing the most famous song ever about Old Mr. Donald and his farm?

S: Of course, Kiki. 1-2-3. (Old Mc Donald had a farm...)

Story

S: Woohoo! It's story time...

K: Today's story is about four friends.

An old donkey knew his master would soon get rid of him, so he ran away.

DONKEY: I will go to the city and become a musician.

On the way he met a dog, a cat and a chicken. They were old too and had run away from their masters.

DONKEY: Come with me to the town, we can all become musicians.

CHICKEN: I see a house, let's look inside.

They saw a gang of robbers, eating their dinner, surrounded by stolen gold.

CAT: If we chase them away, we shall have food and shelter.

They all jumped on the donkey's back and began to sing. The sound was so terrible that the robbers ran away.

The four friends ate the food and fell asleep.

But that same night one of the robbers came back. He saw the cat's eyes shining in the darkness and thought it was a monster and ran away, then he stepped on the dog, who bit him. Then the donkey kicked him in the back, and the chicken began to crow.

The robber told his friends...

ROBBER: A group of monsters live in the house, one has eyes of fire, one stabbed me, another hit me with a wooden club and one wouldn't stop yelling at me.

The robbers were so scared they never went back to the house. The four friends lived happily ever after, playing music.
